

Hate

Internet has a lot of ways of conveying hate and while I haven't seen a comment showing genuine displeasure towards me (at least on Youtube) I hate that I took dislikes so emotionally after realizing how many people disliked me uploading my oldest animations

I simply don't like that I allowed myself to be driven by this but at the very least my drawing spirit was brought back by me drawing Papyrus getting his spine split by a shuriken dislike button

I just felt like it would be accurate that making Papyrus feel alone, pathetic and unloved would deal that much pain to him

I don't know what else to say other than that I feel like I'm on the lowest of lows in terms of popularity which is actually understandable considering I haven't done anything for so long

It just makes me feel like I'm forgotten, like I'm dead in everyone's mind and people finding these being way more unlikely but at the same time that I shouldn't hope for meaningless numbers on screen to go higher
